

Rock Bodham 2018

Early indications show that Rock Bodham 2018 has been a successful event with gate numbers estimated to be around 1000 people on Saturday 28 July. A breezy afternoon put pay to the bouncy castle but the bands stepped up and we had a great day. Artists from near and far entertained the crowds in the afternoon before The Yow Yows took to the stage just after 7pm. It was then that the heavens opened a a short but very sharp shower dampened the ground but not spirits, as some took for cover in the beer tent, and others stayed out and danced in the rain, not willing to miss any of one of North Norfolk's favourite bands.

The rain soon abated and the sun came back out, and The Stereotypes and Dulcet Tones got people back outside and dancing before DJ Hagster closed the night at 11.15pm. A massive thank you to all our volunteers who helped on the gates, BBQ and Bar over the day, we could not have done it without you.

Sunday's events moved to The Red Hart Inn. The forecast rain moved the events inside the pub, but as the bands came on the pub started to buzz with people, and sing-a-longs with Jack Daniel and a fantastic closing set from Sons of Poets finished the weekend in style. Thanks must go to Tim, Elaine, Martyn and their staff for hosting us on Sunday, and we hope they had a successful day.

Thanks to all our bands, who perform free of charge, for the benefit of our local charities and village organisations. We are so fortunate that our bands and performers are willing to give up their time for our village. As always, though, we could always do with more support from villagers, so as we get ready for Rock Bodham 2019 (July 27) come and get involved!

Full reports and a range of photos will be posted online, at Facebook.com/rockbodham, on Twitter, and on Instagram.

Please find us there.

Rock Bodham committee with Chris Bushby CEO of The Big C

Chris Bushby addressing the Rock Bodham crowds